WELCOME TO THE FALL SEMESTER

Fall MLS Seminar

What an exciting time to be part of the MLS program! This semester's seminar offering, Ways of Knowing, is in full swing with a class enrollment of thirteen students. Siobhan Moroney from the Politics Department is teaching the class, with visits by a number of colleagues. This seminar examines how different academic disciplines view the world in distinctively different ways. The seminar explores several of the ways in which we know, concentrating on science, literature, philosophy, and the arts.

Fall Writing Course

The Community Education office is happy to announce that the Writing by the Lake Seminar is back for the Fall 2022 semester. This four-session program is open to community members and will be taught by Lake Forest College English professor Josh Corey, whose publications include several novels and poetry.

Professor Josh Corey

Classes will meet from 9-11am on Mondays, October 24, November 7, 14 and 21 at Glen Rowan House. If you, or someone you know is interested in joining us, please visit lakeforest.edu/WBL for more information or to register.

MLS FALL GATHERING

Whether you are a current MLS student, or a graduate of the program, please plan to join us for our annual Fall Gathering held at Glen Rowan House on October 24th. This is a wonderful opportunity to meet and reconnect with fellow classmates.

MLS PROGRAM NEWS

This Spring, our MLS seminar offering will be Religion: An Interdisciplinary Approach (MLS 546). This seminar explores what religion is, what it may look like in the future and how it interacts with our psychological, sociological and cultural lives. This seminar will be led by Professor Ahmad Sadri and will weave together the perspectives of theologians, philosophers, psychologists, social scientists, writers and artists.

If you have taken a break from your MLS classes, due to COVID or a busy schedule, consider returning for the Spring. This seminar has always generated fascinating discussion in the past, and we have no doubt it will do the same this Spring semester.

MLS CIVICS PROGRAM

The MLS department is pleased to re-introduce a series of graduate credit courses for high school teachers oriented around civics and the American constitutional experience. This curriculum is offered through the MLS program at Lake Forest College and is taught by Lake Forest College professors.

Classes for the civics program will be offered this Fall, Summer 2023, Spring 2024 and Summer 2024. For more information, please visit lakeforest.edu/civics

MLS SPRING GRADUATION

CONGRATULATIONS TO OUR GRADUATES!

On May 6th, the MLS program celebrated our four graduates for 2022, Charles Heckman, Kyle Naughton, Katherine Swee and Kara Tumminello. It was a wonderful evening that brought together graduates, their families, current MLS students and alumni, along with MLS faculty. We are so proud of these graduates. We are excited to see how they will incorporate their new degree into their current daily lives.
