

ITF Partnerships Workstream Report

December 6, 2024

1. From late-October through late-November, we focused on gathering feedback on the relationship continuum/pyramid (see September 2024 report), the guiding principles and logistics document for developing, sustaining, and managing relationships. The efforts included:

- Multiple conversations with President Baren
- A robust discussion with the full ITF on 10/28/24
- Meetings with the entire partnership group and subsets of this group.

2. At our final meeting in November, the partnership group discussed our progress with President Baren. We sought feedback on next steps for the group to consider, as we addressed most of our original deliverables.

- In the end, President Baren suggested that the group's final task was to "test" our relationship continuum/pyramid against existing relationships by attempting to classify a wide sample of existing relationships.
- After this exercise, which the group plans to complete by early January, we will provide final versions of all deliverables.
